

Clearing Sale of Garments.

This morning, June 11th, we shall place on sale: 80 Garments at $1.00 each, 180 " " $2.00 " 275 " " $3.00 " 150 " " $4.00 " 425 " " $5.00 "

These are Capes, Wraps and Jackets of light weight, the entire balance of our stock of past styles. They are made of the finest material and richly trimmed; neither cost nor value has been considered in prices at which they are marked. They will be most useful for the mountains or the seaside, where absolutely correct style is not indispensable.

Further, the balance of our stock of Capes, Jackets and Silk Waists, of this season's production, will be offered at the same time at reduced prices.

This sale begins to-day and will continue throughout the week, on the Second Floor.

JAMES McCREERY & CO., Broadway and 11th St.

Have you heard of a man that goes around from store to store trying on shoes—just for fun? We'll cure him. "How?"

Why, put a pair of russet shoes on him. He'll like 'em so well he won't let us take 'em off.

To Several Who Have Written Lately:

We have nothing to say about the way other houses do business. We have enough to do to attend to our own. We do say this:

Our method is to ACCOMMODATE our customers, not merely at the time they buy the goods, but afterward, if necessary. We have applied that method to selling the largest and handsomest stock of House Furnishing Goods in the United States. We have supplemented that method by the lowest prices in New York. And within 500 miles we pay the freight.

It doesn't take half a page of a newspaper to say this, but there is not a house in New York that says as much, or will do as well.

Yours, to prove it.
